Message from ICAS PRESIDENT

Igbo kwenu!
Rie nu!
Nuo nu!
Muo nu!
Zuo nu!

On behalf of the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan (ICAS), in my capacity as the 9th president of Ndi Igbo in Saskatchewan, I am pleased to welcome you all to the 2023 edition of our flagship event, the 10th bi-annual Igbo Day of Arts and Culture in the land of living skies.

ICAS was founded in 2002 to promote a smooth integration of new immigrants into society, become a social support network for members and preserve the Igbo Nigerian-Canadian heritage through events, workshops, language and culture education.

Every two years, we celebrate Igbo Day, dedicating the day to promoting awareness and use of the Igbo language, art, as well as honouring the Igbo Nigerian-Canadian cultural heritage in Saskatchewan.

The theme of the 2023 Igbo Day, "Oganihu Asusu na Omenala Igbo (Preservation of the Igbo Language and Culture)", helps to increase the awareness and use of the Igbo language, art and culture, as well as honour the contributions of the Nigerian-Canadian people of Igbo descent to the cultural, professional and economic development of Saskatchewan in particular and Canada as a whole.

Message from ICAS PRESIDENT

In 2019, the Government of Saskatchewan and the City of Regina respectively issued the first proclamation in Canada, designating August 3, 2019 as Igbo Day of Arts and Culture. The 2021 edition was canceled due to the COVID 19 pandemic. As life returns to normal, we appreciate that, this year, the two levels of government re-issued their proclamations designating August 5, 2023 as Igbo Day of Arts and Culture. We are happy that you are all able to join us today as we celebrate our cultural heritage in Saskatchewan. We are grateful to Canada, the government and entire people of Saskatchewan for placing great value on diversity and multiculturalism. Nothing is more important to a people than being able to be themselves, practice their culture and language wherever they have found a home.

Also, we appreciate the support from our major sponsors, including the Multicultural Council of Saskatchewan (MCoS), La Cité universitaire francophone and SaskTel. We appreciate our friendship with various organizations represented here today, including the Yoruba Community Association of Regina, the Saskatoon Igbo Cultural Association, the Umunna Igbo Cultural Association of Manitoba, the Igbo Cultural Association of Edmonton, and many others.

I thank the ICAS Council of Elders, ICAS Executive, Saskatoon Igbo Women, the youth and all volunteers for their hard work in putting this event together.

Once again, I welcome all of you to this special day of celebration of culture. I hope you will fully enjoy the artistic displays, dance performances such as Abigbo, Igba Eze, Ogene, Ikpirikpe Ogu, Masquerade, beautiful costumes and delicious food.

Above all, I hope that everyone will be inspired to learn more about one another. When diverse cultures cohabit with respect for one another, each one enriches itself as they learn from one another. My community is appreciative of your presence and support as we celebrate this day in Saskatchewan!

Happy Igbo Day!

Dr. Chidi Igwe
ICAS President

Based in Regina, the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan (ICAS) was incorporated as a non-profit organisation in 2002 to build cultural bridges that enhance understanding between the Igbo people of Saskatchewan and other Canadian communities and cultures.

With a population of more than 40 million predominantly in southeastern Nigeria, the Igbo are among Africa's largest ethnic groups. As their population grew in Saskatchewan, ICAS was formed to bring people together, and provide a platform for intercultural dialogue within the Canadian Multiculturalism.

ICAS collaborates with other African communities, First Nations and Métis, Chinese, Indian, Pakistanis, etc., to facilitate understanding, awareness, learning, practice and integration of new Canadian cultures in Saskatchewan.

ICAS's mandate is to promote and preserve the language and cultural heritage of the Igbo people of Saskatchewan. We fight racism and encourage intercultural dialogue, creating opportunities for the Afro-Saskatchewan community to work with other cultures, understand them and, most importantly, help them to understand us.

ABOUT THE IGBO CULTURAL ASSOCIATION OF SASKATCHEWAN

Through a series of cultural activities and events such as the Igbo Day of Arts and Culture, we create opportunities for people of different ethnic, racial and cultural backgrounds to work together, learn from one another, with the hope of building a more harmonious society.

The association is a volunteer-driven organization. Full membership is open to all Igbo people living in the province. Other individuals and groups are admitted as associate members. The affairs of the association are administered by a 10-member Executive Council drawn from the general membership through a general election.

A Message from His Honour Russ Mirasty
The Lieutenant Governor of Saskatchewan

August 5, 2023

On behalf of His Majesty King Charles the III, King of Canada, it is my pleasure to extend greetings to everyone celebrating the Igbo Day of Arts and Culture.

I applaud the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan for presenting this special event in Regina and for your choice of this year's theme of "Oganihu Asusu na Omenala Igbo" or "Preservation of the Igbo Language and Culture".

As a member of the Lac La Ronge Indian Band, I am particularly aware of the importance of remaining connected to one's culture. And, as a Cree speaker, I understand that speaking our native languages informs our identity, connects us to our ancestors, and enhances our ability to participate within our community.

We are fortunate to live in a country that encourages multiculturalism, where we can treasure our heritage while honouring our Canadian values and traditions. I am grateful for your efforts to increase awareness and the use of Igbo language, art and culture in Saskatchewan, and to promote the many contributions to our province from Nigerian-Canadian people of Igbo descent.

Please accept my best wishes for a wonderful Igbo Day of Arts and Culture.

A Message from the Minister of Parks, Culture and Sport
2023 Igbo Day of Arts and Culture in Saskatchewan

On behalf of Premier Scott Moe and the Government of Saskatchewan, it is my pleasure to offer you a warm welcome to the 2023 Igbo Day of Arts and Culture Banquet.

I'd like to thank the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan for the work they do to promote Igbo heritage in our communities, honour the contributions of Nigerian-Canadians of Igbo decent, and for sharing this special occasion with our province.

Saskatchewan's provincial motto, Through Many Peoples, Strength, is well reflected in this year's Igbo Day of Arts and Culture celebrations, as we recognize that sharing our cultural practices and traditions brings us closer together as a community, while encouraging acceptance, understanding, and inclusivity.

The hard work, compassion, and commitment to our province by the Igbo community has contributed greatly to our province's prosperity, making Saskatchewan one of the best places to live, work, and raise a family.

I hope you enjoy the fantastic displays, food and performances, and wish you all a Happy Igbo Day!

Sincerely,

Laura Ross

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

On behalf of my City Council colleagues and the City of Regina, I want to thank the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan for taking the time to organize the Igbo Day of Arts and Culture.

The diversity of our community is something that Regina takes great pride in. We believe that this blend of different cultures is what makes not only our city, but our country, unique on the world stage. Inclusion is an important aspect that we wholeheartedly support as it allows for the mosaic of cultures in our community to feel both welcomed and appreciated.

I encourage our residents to recognize August 5th, 2023, as Igbo Day of Arts and Culture here in Regina. This year's theme of Oganihu Asusu na Omenala Igbo (Preservation of the Igbo Language and Culture) is a universal concept that numerous cultures can relate too. Language preservation is imperative for many of those that call Regina home, and we commend the work that Nigerian-Canadian people of Igbo descent are engaging in to bring awareness to their language and culture.

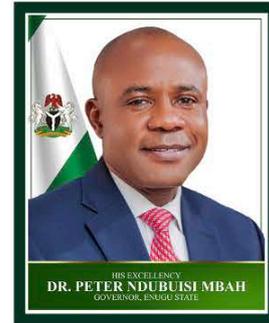

I hope you all have an incredible time learning and celebrating on Igbo Day of Arts and Culture.

Sincerely,

Sandra Masters

GOODWILL MESSAGE

I am honoured by your invitation to the Igbo Day of Arts and Culture being organized by the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan (ICAS), and scheduled for August 5, 2023 in Saskatchewan, Canada.

I am particularly delighted that the Government of Saskatchewan has issued a proclamation designating August 5, 2023 as Igbo Day of Arts and Culture in the province; and that the Mayor of Regina has issued a similar proclamation for Regina, the capital city of Saskatchewan. The gestures are doubtless a testament to the strong support the Igbo people in Saskatchewan have received from both the provincial and municipal governments, as well as a recognition of your contributions to the advancement of all spheres of Canadian socio-economic life.

The theme for this year's celebration, "Oganihu Asusu na Omenala Igbo (Preservation of the Igbo Language and Culture)" is apt and germane, as it speaks to the alarming classification of Igbo as one of the endangered languages of the world by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), and the imperatives of collaboration to reverse the trend. It is gladdening that the present effort to raise awareness on the need to promote the use of Igbo language, art and culture is being championed from our diaspora community. It is my hope that the discussions will generate new ideas and strategies that will resonate with relevant stakeholders.

As you may be aware, the new Peter Mbah Administration in Enugu State has proposed a humongous plan to grow the Enugu economy sevenfold, making it the most attractive for business, tourism, living and leisure. A robust and sincere diaspora engagement is central to this plan. In this regard, the Enugu State government has announced its intention to host an Investment and Economic Stakeholder Roundtable in September this year, as a precursor to the launch of the first edition of the Enugu State Diaspora and Investment Forum (ES-DIF) scheduled for April 2024, all aimed at attracting $2 Billion investments interests in its first year. We do hope you will avail yourselves of the immense opportunities to turn your remittances from consumption to profitable investments.

On behalf of the Governor, His Excellency, Dr. Peter Ndubuisi Mbah, and the government and good people of Enugu State, please accept my good wishes for a happy and memorable event.

Ndi Igbo mma mma nụ!

I want to congratulate the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan and all Ndi Igbo in the province as you celebrate your cultural heritage in Canada. I am glad to join you in person this year on this special occasion of Igbo Day celebration on August 5, 2023.

Our people say that "Ebe onye bi ka ọ na-awachi." We are all proud of your hard work and immense contributions to diversity and all aspects of professional, political and economic life in Canada.

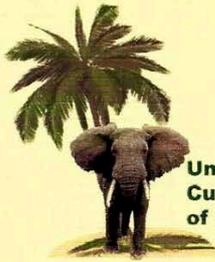

Igbo Day 2023 is one of many opportunities for you to maintain the language and cultures of our people in Canada, teaching your children our mother tongue and way of life and ensuring that the Igbo language and identity can continue to be transferred from generation to generation.

Congratulations and happy Igbo Day to everyone in Saskatchewan!

Congratulatory Message!

Aug 2, 2023

Dear Friends and Participants,

On behalf of the Igbo Cultural Association of Edmonton, we extend our warmest congratulations to the esteemed Igbo community in Saskatchewan on the occasion of the 2023 Igbo Day of Arts and Culture. This momentous event, proclaimed by the Government of Saskatchewan at the behest of the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan, marks a remarkable celebration of the rich heritage and traditions that bind us together as a people.

The theme of this year's event, "Oganihu Asusu na Omenala Igbo - Preservation of the Igbo Language and Culture," highlights the importance of safeguarding our language and customs, which serve as the pillars of our identity. The resilience demonstrated by the Igbo community in Saskatchewan is truly commendable, as you continue to forge new paths and enrich the cultural landscape of your new home in Canada.

We recognize and celebrate the outstanding achievements of the Igbo community in Saskatchewan, a testament to your commitment to excellence on every front. Your dedication to preserving our cherished traditions while embracing the opportunities of your adopted homeland is an inspiration to Igbos both in Saskatchewan and across the globe.

As we gather to celebrate Igbo arts, culture, and the spirit of unity, let us remember that it is through the collective efforts of each one of us that our culture will endure and thrive. The Igbo Cultural Association of Edmonton stands in solidarity with our brothers and sisters in Saskatchewan, offering our unwavering support in your pursuit of cultural preservation and advancement.

We wish you a memorable and successful event, filled with joy, camaraderie, and the sharing of cherished traditions. May the bonds of our community grow stronger, and may the spirit of excellence continue to guide us all.

Igbo Day of Arts and Culture – Program Message

The Multicultural Council of Saskatchewan (MCoS) is pleased to extend our well-wishes to the Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan as they celebrate the 2023 Igbo Day of Arts and Culture. MCoS also sends warm congratulations on the declaration by the Government of Saskatchewan, proclaiming August 5, 2023 as Igbo Day of Arts and Culture.

MCoS is proud to support organizations such as ICAS. The theme for this year's event is Oganihu Asusu na Omenala Igbo (Preservation of the Igbo Language and Culture). This year's theme and event fulfills the Cultural Continuity stream of multicultural work. This stream empowers ethnocultural organizations, individuals and communities to retain, maintain and evolve distinct cultural practices and traditions in the Canadian context. In celebration of the Igbo Day of Arts and Culture, increased awareness of the use of the Igbo language, arts, and culture in Saskatchewan is being formed. We recognize that this event also honours the contributions of the Nigerian-Canadian people of Igbo descent to the cultural, professional, and economic development of Saskatchewan.

The Igbo Cultural Association of Saskatchewan is at the forefront in preserving and promoting Igbo-Nigerian culture and fostering an environment in which community members and organizations can contribute to the cultural, economic, social, and political development of Saskatchewan. Congratulations on your efforts and commitment to this important work!
